OLD BURIAL GROUND AKA ZIMMERMAN JN 23

SITUATED on the Henry Zimmerman farm about one and one half miles south west of Stoyestown in Jenner Township, Somerset Co. Pa.

The farm before its purchase by Mr. Zimmerman forty years ago was owned by a Short, a Gardner had taken out the patent from the state.

Mr. Zimmerman's father told him about the old grave yard supposedly containing twenty three graves, and showed him its location. It was grown over with sassafras trees twenty feet high. Mr. Zimmerman cut down the trees and underbrush and noticed a plot of land about forty by fifty feet slightly elevated.

1 The "grave like" appearance of the surface of the plot and the regular placing of a few flat field stones indicate a burial plot. The only two people known to be buried there are a man named Berkey, reported to be the first buried there and a man 2 named Gardner who choked to death on a piece of meat while attending a party at this place.

PIPER BURIAL GROUND

JH24

Situated on the Henry Piper farm, Jennertownship, Jennertown, about 1 mile north west of Jennertown.

Two men buried here, brothers. Tradition is that their name was HUDSON. They were supposed to have helped with the building of the road (now the Lincoln Highway) about 1815. They were bachelors
One died and a short time later the other committed suicide. There is a spring a short distance from the graves, which are marked with native
stones, bearing the initials

1 E. H.

2 H. H.

1820

Their house was near the spring.

Thou dost not Lord our sorrow chide.

Soon will our sorrows all be over
And we shall sweetly tell
With thee on Canaan's pleasant shore
That all at last is well.
