

Fairview Cemetery, Wrightsville, York Co., PA

Compiled, transcribed and photographed by Melissa Hake Fitzkee

2007

Transcriptions were made, compared to and updated from the cemetery census taken in 1932. The work completed in 1932 was scattered throughout the cemetery. As a result some early interments without current markers may be placed in the wrong section. Entries were indexed here by section as closely as possible. It is advisable to check with the current caretakers to get the proper section and plot number.

Older or temporary markers may have contained complete dates and other information not found on the newer or replacement markers. I have combined information to include as much information as possible. Still, I would look at the 1932 work to see family relationships which may not have made it onto this work due to format. Where I had personal knowledge of my family or fellow towns people I added maiden or middle names. In these instances you will see the transcription will vary from the head stone photo or previous transcriptions.

Use the map included here to locate the section in which your family member lies. I have kept this as simple as possible in using the main road as a division line from east and west, lettering sections and numbering each row. In so doing, you should be able to locate your ancestor quickly if there is, in fact, a stone remaining. The photo discs run accordingly to the transcriptions and are labeled with the same corresponding sections and rows.

Again I caution you to contact the caretaker for the proper section and plot identification number. The system shown was devised only for this project.

In older days it was permissible to inter more than one individual per plot. Those not having the means for interment relied on the charity of family or neighbors. In most cases a marker was not provided. Occasionally, a notation in the family Bible recorded such an event. If you suspect this possibility you will have to contact the caretaker.

Another good source to prove interments when a marker is missing is the Coroners Record of Death. The years are limited but this record can be found at the York Co Archives.

If you find errors, please, feel free to write corrections here in pencil...for I am human.
