Notes:

The Church record book/ledger measures approximately 5 ½ w by 12 ¼ tall. There are three pages where the bottom line on the page was not captured in the scan. I have included that data with brackets on the transcription page. Most was written in pencil, some is hard to read on the printed copy, but legible in the original book with a few exceptions and have so noted on those pages.

Identified, BLANK, pages that are omitted in the Church Record Book are: 2, 9, 24, 36, 41, 53, 60, 62, 66, 68, 40-143, 145, 147, 151-152. I found no page for 21 or 22 and must have been removed.

There are no birth or death records recorded in this book/ledger but we felt it important for a genealogist to possibly find an ancestor living in this community in Freestone Co. TX during the years in between the taking of census.

The spelling of names as was so written.

“Preparation For Service.”

In reading The Bible from Genesis to Revelations we are in constant reminder that the most pronounced and outstanding figures in Sacred History that each & every one of the characters therein went through a thorough preparation for service to God. In the First instance that we recall is that of Able, wherein he worshiped God without pretentiousness and with a true heart and with no thought of personal aggrandizement or greed, and that he paid unto God what was God's and retained nothing for himself that was due God, for this he lost his life, and then follows Noah, who at the command of God, spent many years in preparation of the Ark, while his neighbors made ridicule of his preparations, and after event showed that his preparation was no idle dream or theory, and he saved himself and family from the flood and then there was Moses who had his trial and tribulations, in fact his preparations for the great leader of the Israelites, Jacob had to flee from home to a foreign land, so that he would be able to prepare himself for the work that was in store for him and there are innumerable instances of such in the Old Testament where those who afterwards was to be shown the special favors of God- had to undergo many trial & tribulations for their preparation for the life they were destined to lead. Our Savior had his long preparations for his work that he afterwards accomplished. Even in profane history we reach of the long preparation of labor and self denial, we are told that Gen. Robert E Lee said that before anyone was able to command he first had to learn to obey. And in all our professions we know that we as a whole demand that those who lead must prepare themselves for such. Who would send for a Doctor who had not prepared himself to practice? Would a lawyer be employed who had not prepared for the service that you expected? No indeed. That is why we now have our specialist in every calling of life, even our ministry.
